PROJECT

The goal of the project is to use different art tools to empower the youth to bring about changes on their streets. You will be asked to look around and see what you and this community need to live more fulfilling lives. And you will learn how to use the street arts to bring about the change.

Using singing, dancing, sport activities, games, theater and other art forms you will explore the environment, get to know young people from other countries and work together to improve the streets of Murzasichle - how? You will set up your ambitious goal and set on completing the task before you leave. I hope that the locals will fare you well. The project will use methods of non-formal education.
