TRAINING COURSE

SUPPORTING YOUTH TO ACT LOCAL, BE SOCIAL

SATURDAY 26 MAY – SATURDAY 2 JUNE 2018, Woodrow High House,
LONDON, UK

RECRUITMENT INFORMATION SHEET

Are you interested in learning how to support young people to create and deliver their own social action campaigns?

Creative Opportunities is delivering a first stage training course for youth workers (anyone who works with young people aged 13-30, in a paid, voluntary, full or part-time position) to equip them with the necessary knowledge, understanding and skills to be able to support the young people they work with to run a social action campaign, to change the issues that affect them most. This will be achieved through successive implementation of the following project objectives:

- Learn how to tackle various indicators of inequality and under representation within your work, passing on this attitude to the young people you work with
- Reflect on and discuss issues of identity and community, to learn and collaborate together on local and wider issues that affect young people in your localities
- Develop resilience to various risks or challenges when supporting young people to undertake social action of their own in future
- Develop networks to be able to continue to catalyse positive change in your communities, through leadership, volunteering and civic participation
- Increase the professional development of youth workers across Europe to be able to address issues that affect young people

The training course is strongly based on experiential learning (learning by doing) and non-formal education, with adequate time allocated for debriefing and reflection throughout the whole program. It will take place over one week, 6 days of training with one afternoon 'free'.

It will be an intense programme, and some activities will take place in the evening after dinner, so applicants must be available for the entire duration.
